INDEX TO VOLUME 36

AUTHOR INDEX

Anderson, Carolyn, and Jonathan Lupo. Introduction to the Special Issue. Summer 50.

Chandler, David. Representing the Mad King: George III in the Cinema. Summer 72.

Cornick, Michael. Cut, Spliced, and Dubbed for the Sky: Film Censorship and the Airline Industry. Winter 174.

Diffrient, David Scott. Filming a Life in Fragments: Thirty Two Short Films about Glenn Gould as "Biorhythmic-Pic." Summer 91.

Frus, Phyllis. The Figure in the Landscape: Capote and Infamous. Summer 52.

Gillam, Ken, and Shannon R. Wooden. Post-Princess Models of Gender: The New Man in Disney/Pixar. Spring 2.

Jenkins, Tricia. The Suburban Spy and the Rise of the New Right: Negotiating Gender Politics in Scarecrow and Mrs. King. Winter 200.

Johnston, Keith M. "Three Times as Thrilling!": The Lost History of 3-D Trailer Production, 1953–54. Fall 150.

Kraft, Elizabeth. All the President's Men as a Woman's Film. Spring 30.

Leeder, Murray. Forget Peter Vincent: Nostalgia, Self-Reflexivity, and the Genre Past in Fright Night. Winter 190.

Locke, Brian. Strange Fruit: White, Black, and Asian in the World War II Combat Film Bataan. Spring 9.

Lupo, Jonathan, and Carolyn Anderson. Off-Hollywood Lives: Irony and Its Discontents in the Contemporary Biopic. Summer 102.

Marling, William. Mobile Phones as Narrative Tropes. Spring 38.

Matheson, Sue. Individualism, Bentham's Panopticon, and Counterculture in Robert Aldrich's The Dirty Dozen (1967). Winter 180.

Mizejewski, Linda. Minstrelsy and Wartime Buddies: Racial and Sexual Histories in White Christmas. Spring 21.

Moddelmog, Debra A. Can Romantic Comedy Be Gay? Hollywood Romance, Citizenship, and Same-Sex Marriage Panic. Winter 162.

Pardon, Joshua. Revisiting a Science Fiction Classic: Interpreting The Day the Earth Stood Still for Contemporary Film Audiences. Fall 141.

Radcliff, Matthew. Absentminded Professor or Romantic Artist? The Depiction of Creativity in Documentary Biographies of Albert Einstein. Summer 62.

Schlotterbeck, Jesse. "Trying to Find a Heartbeat": Narrative Music in the Pop Performer Biopic. Summer 82.

Sickels, Robert C. "We're in a tight spot!": The Coen Brothers' Screwy Romantic Comedies. Fall 114.

Telotte, J. P. The Stereoscopic Mickey: Space, Animation, and the Mouse. Fall 133.

Walsh, Kimberly R., Elfriede Fürsich, and Bonnie S. Jefferson. Beauty and the Patriarchal Beast: Gender Role Portrayals in Sitcoms Featuring Mismatched Couples. Fall 123.

TITLE INDEX

Absentminded Professor or Romantic Artist? The Depiction of Creativity in Documentary Biographies of Albert Einstein. Matthew Radcliff. Summer 62.

All the President's Men as a Woman's Film. Elizabeth Kraft. Spring 30.

Beauty and the Patriarchal Beast: Gender Role Portrayals in Sitcoms Featuring Mismatched Couples. Kimberly R. Walsh, Elfriede Fürsich, and Bonnie S. Jefferson. Fall 123.

Can Romantic Comedy Be Gay? Hollywood Romance, Citizenship, and Same-Sex Marriage Panic. Debra A. Moddelmog. Winter 162.

Cut, Spliced, and Dubbed for the Sky: Film Censorship and the Airline Industry. Michael Cornick. Winter 174.

The Figure in the Landscape: Capote and Infamous. Phyllis Frus. Summer 52.

Filming a Life in Fragments: Thirty Two Short Films about Glenn Gould as "Biorhythmic-Pic." David Scott Diffrient. Summer 91.

Forget Peter Vincent: Nostalgia, Self-Reflexivity, and the Genre Past in Fright Night. Murray Leeder. Winter 190.

Individualism, Bentham's Panopticon, and Counterculture in Robert Aldrich's The Dirty Dozen (1967). Sue Matheson. Winter 180.

Introduction to the Special Issue. Carolyn Anderson and Jonathan Lupo. Summer 50.

Minstrelsy and Wartime Buddies: Racial and Sexual Histories in White Christmas. Linda Mizejewski. Spring 21.

Mobile Phones as Narrative Tropes. William Marling. Spring 38.

Off-Hollywood Lives: Irony and Its Discontents in the Contemporary Biopic. Jonathan Lupo and Carolyn Anderson. Summer 102.

Post-Princess Models of Gender: The New Man in Disney/Pixar. Ken Gillam and Shannon R. Wooden. Spring 2.

Representing the Mad King: George III in the Cinema. David Chandler. Summer 72.

Revisiting a Science Fiction Classic: Interpreting The Day the Earth Stood Still for Contemporary Film Audiences. Joshua Pardon. Fall 141.

The Stereoscopic Mickey: Space, Animation, and the Mouse. J. P. Telotte. Fall 133.

Strange Fruit: White, Black, and Asian in the World War II Combat Film Bataan. Brian Locke. Spring 9.

The Suburban Spy and the Rise of the New Right: Negotiating Gender Politics in Scarecrow and Mrs. King. Tricia Jenkins. Winter 200.

"Three Times as Thrilling!": The Lost History of 3-D Trailer Production, 1953–54. Keith M. Johnston. Fall 150.

"Trying to Find a Heartbeat": Narrative Music in the Pop Performer Biopic. Jesse Schlotterbeck. Summer 82.

"We're in a tight spot!": The Coen Brothers' Screwy Romantic Comedies. Robert C. Sickels. Fall 114.

BOOK REVIEWS

Connelly, Mark. The Red Shoes. Rev. Jane Nicholas. Spring 46.

Johnson-Smith, Jan. American Science Fiction TV: Star Trek, Stargate and Beyond. Rev. Doug Battema. Spring 45.

McElhaney, Joe. The Death of Classical Cinema: Hitchcock, Lang, Minnelli. Rev. Brian Faucette. Spring 46.